WHITE MOURNING

The Usual Trimmings of Red
Are Covered with a Band of White Ribbon.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—A silent little band of men and women, with flat military caps and poke bonnets, and white silk bands on their sleeves, gathered last night at the Polk street depot shortly before the arrival of the 8:47 Santa Fe train from Kansas City.

They were there to do honor to their late consul, Mrs. Emma Booth-Tucker, who died at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday night at Mercedine, Mo., a victim of the Santa Fe railway catastrophe at Dean Lake, in which Col. T. C. Holland, head of the Amity colony at Amity, Colo., was fatally injured.

When the train stopped at the platform a party of Salvation army officers, led by Col. Charles Sowton, hurried through the gates, and, with uncovered heads, removed the coffin from the baggage car to a hearse in waiting at the rear of the station.

Quietly and simply, while tears filled the eyes of the lookers-on, the body was taken to an undertaking establishment, preparatory to its removal to Princess rink, where it will lie in state until 7 o'clock this evening.

Commander Views Body.
Shortly after 10 o'clock Commander Both-Tucker, accompanied by Col. Sowton and Brig. Damon, drove up in a closed carriage and entered the undertaking establishment. The long hours of waiting had given the commander time to gather strength to view the body of the woman he loved without breaking down. But his haggard face told a story plainer than words of a man who was bearing up by the sheer force of an iron will.

Slowly the commander walked to the open casket and gazed upon the features of his wife. The wounds revealed in the accident had been skillfully concealed, and the consul looked as if asleep. The muscles of the commander's face were seen to twitch under the glare of the electric light, and he sank upon his knees in silent prayer.

By the side of the casket with him knelt his companions. For five minutes he prayed. Then he arose, and looking once more upon the face within the casket, moved slowly out into the street and was assisted into his carriage.

Dies in Tourist Car.
On the same train with the body came Ensign Walter Lundy and Col. J. C. Adie of Kansas City. Ensign Dammes, who was on the wrecked train but escaped injury, was also a passenger, as were a number of other well-known officers of the Salvation Army.

"Mrs. Booth-Tucker's watch stopped at 9:11 p. m., and she died two and one-half hours later," said Ensign Dammes. She did not regain consciousness and I held her hand when she died. She was in the tourist car when she was told twice that her berth in the standard Pullman was ready. If she had only left the tourist car,

MAKES FAST TIME WITH AN AUTO.

H. G. Anderson Came Here from Kenosha in Less Than Three Hours.

H. G. Anderson, for many years connected with the Janesville Machine works, has just purchased a Rambler automobile. He went to Kenosha yesterday and selected his machine and then started back across country for Janesville with his vehicle. From the time of his leaving Kenosha for Janesville until he arrived in this city he was just two hours and fifty-seven minutes on the road. The distance covered was eighty-five miles. Taking everything into consideration this is a remarkable run.

Refuse to Pay

Henry Carlson who works on a farm not far from Janesville partook of a fifteen-cent repast at Schmidley's restaurant last night but refused to pay for it, though he had money in his pockets. His brain was disordered by intoxicants and he evidently imagined that for some reason or other the lunch was "on the house." In jail this morning he could not remember anything of the incident. He is a good natured individual with a pleasant countenance and was released on promise to look no more at the wine when it is red.

SAN JUAN GOLD OUTPUT
SHOWS HEAVY INCREASE

Last Year's Production Is 40 Per Cent
Larger Than in 1902, With Plenty in Sight.

Durango, Col., Oct. 30.—The gold output of the San Juan country, from all present indications, will be sufficiently heavy during 1904 to attract attention even from Klondike veterans. San Juan gold is not handled like that of California, Australia, Africa or Alaska. No marvelous finds of pockets or huge nuggets are reported, nor any huge veins where the yellow metal is to be shoveled up like clay, as was always the case—according to the preliminary tales—in the lands where the big gold stampedes occurred.

The gold of the San Juan country is to be gained by tunnel-mining or by steady work at the river placers. It is found in ore of medium quality, with few startling deposits at any one spot, but it is there, it is apparently inexhaustible in quantity and is being steadily brought to light by an army of miners which is constantly increasing. An increase in total output of over 40 per cent over the 1902 reports is figured on for 1903 and a proportionate increase for next year.

New York, Oct. 30.—Andrew Carnegie, who arrived from Europe, said on subject of American financial policy: "This denouement will result in salutary reduction values and natural condition after water has been squeezed out of them. Standard securities, steel among them are as safe as ever. There has been perfect saturnalia in Wall street. They are getting sober now and in a few days things will right themselves."

Student of Aberdeen University Now
Resent the Charges Made by an M. P.

Aberdeen, Scotland, Oct. 30.—Charles T. Ritchie, the former chancellor of the exchequer, had a mixed reception at Aberdeen university today when he delivered his rectorial address. When he exhorted his hearers to "let the remembrance of the relief afforded by the repeal of the corn laws seal your hearts against the proposal to tax the food of the people," hostile cries were mingled with the cheers, and much rowdiness prevailed.

William Hays, the colored murderer of Edward Perkins, colored, at Masontown, a year ago was hanged at Ulmstown, Pa.

Fire at St. Louis partially destroyed the steamer Lotus Sims, which had arrived from Memphis and discharged its cargo. The crew barely escaped with their lives.

The main buildings of the William C. Newport company's chemical fertilizer factory at Riverside, Del., were destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

J. Pierpont Morgan and a party of railway officials visited the tomb of McKinley at Canton, Ohio.

Humberto Cattina and Martin J. Pliskur, Italian miners, fell from a cage descending into the Milan Healy mine, and striking the dump 1,000 feet below were instantly killed.

Wenell Rezac, who on May 23 following a quarrel murdered his wife and then attempted suicide, was sentenced at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to prison for twenty-five years. Rezac pleaded guilty under the second degree.

Lord Strathcona, Canadian high commissioner, has accepted the nomination to the chancellorship of Aberdeen university. The nomination was offered to Andrew Carnegie who declined it in favor of Lord Strathcona.

Millard Lee, a young white man, will be hanged at Atlanta today for the murder of Miss Lila May Suttles May 25, 1902. He has been respited five times.

The statement that the Abyssinian monarch will be present at the St. Louis exposition is not considered of much importance at Rome. People well acquainted with Ethiopia ridicule the idea that Emperor Menelik will ever be able to leave the empire, as his departure would be a signal for internal revolution which might end his reign.

PRESIDENT DEMANDS
HEATH'S INDICTMENT

Declares He Is Convinced Former Postal Official Knew of Rascallities Being Practiced.

Washington, Oct. 30.—"Perry Heath must be prosecuted with all the vigor and resources at the command of the government," said President Roosevelt to three friends who called upon him at different times.

"I have delved deep enough into the voluminous Bristow report on the scandals in the postoffice department," the president went on, "to be convinced that Heath must have known of the rascalities being practiced right under his nose by the bureau chiefs and other subordinates of his division who have been indicted."

"The purging of the postoffice department of the rottenness and corruption shown to have existed there will not be complete until all the evidence available against Heath is properly presented to the grand jury. Just as has been done in the cases of men who worked under Heath."

The president frankly intimates that he does not believe there is sufficient evidence in the Bristow report upon which to base criminal action against Heath, but he is of the opinion that the action he has ordered within the last few days will result in an indictment being found.

Panama, Oct. 30.—The Colombian government has ordered a large military force to be in readiness to proceed to the Isthmus should the threatened revolution actually come to a head. At present, however, it looks as if the recent outbreak under General Barrera was so premature as to have nipped the hopes of the conspirators in the bud.

STATE NOTES

The Center swamp fire near Appleton has burned itself out.

Bertha Mason, 11 years old, of Kenosha, probably was fatally burned while playing about a bonfire near her home.

The Racine police asked Boston officers to call for Mrs. Evelyn Sherwood, who was accused of passing worthless checks.

Theodore Baker, of New Centerville, aged 15 years, was killed in a runaway accident by being thrown against a telephone pole. His back was broken.

Prince Albert, one of Frank K. Bull's team of Kentucky thoroughbreds, exhibited at the Milwaukee horse show, and which won a number of ribbons, died of influenza at Racine on Thursday.

Miriam Putnam of Green Bay, Helen Herke and Annie Kroeger of Appleton, and Mrs. Mary Scherert of Marinette are in the Green Bay police station awaiting a hearing on charges of street loafing.

William Smith was sentenced by Judge Webb at Grand Rapids to fifteen years in state prison for assaulting Miss May Henning Thursday night. Smith confessed when confronted by Miss Henning.

Mayor Hammel of Appleton has issued notice that no disorder will be tolerated on Halloween and has sworn in extra policemen to prevent the Lawrence university freshmen and sophomores from engaging in battle.

On Saturday afternoon the battalion at St. John's Military academy at Delafield will begin a series of autumn camping expeditions. Company A going out next Saturday and the others following on successive Saturdays.

The Salvation Army forces in La Crosse are preparing to appeal to Gov. La Follette in the absence of Mayor Torrance, who is in Milwaukee, with the view of securing protection from the hoodlums who persist in interrupting their barrack meetings.

MITCHELL TRUE TO THE UNION

President of the Mine Workers Has No Ambition To Enter
Politics Yet.

STANDS FOR LABOR.

He Advises Miners To Be True to Their Unions
And Always Act
Collectively.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 30.—All the 50,000 United Mineworkers of America in the Lackawanna and Wyoming regions were out on parade John Mitchell day. Mr. Mitchell and Alexander T. Connell, mayor of the city, rode in the first carriage. Other notable men in carriages, of which there was a long line, were James Duncan of Washington, first vice president of the American Federation of Labor; Rev. Thos. H. Atkins, labor candidate for mayor of Scranton last spring; John Oliver, chairman of the select council, and E. E. Robathan, chairman of the common council.

It was a holiday in the two valleys in honor of the president of the mineworkers. All the mines were idle and every train brought throngs to Scranton. The "locals" from Forest City and Nanticoke were in line after the carriages and they were interspersed with about fifty bands.

Urges Loyalty to Union.

The parade ended on the circus grounds, where Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Duncan made speeches. Mr. Mitchell referred to statements that he was ambitious in a political way and said he could not be induced to accept any political office. His only ambition was to further the grades union movement. His speech in the main was a practical talk to the mineworkers, encouraging them to maintain their union that they might be prepared to act collectively when the present three-year working agreement expires and a new one has to be made.

"If you do not maintain the union," he said, "you will suffer a reduction in wages."

Wilson at Hazleton.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 30.—The United Mineworkers of the Lehigh valley region, including the men from the Panther creek valley, celebrated Mitchell day here. The feature of the day was a parade. Seven thousand men were in line and every local union was represented. District President William Detrey was chief marshal.

At the conclusion of the parade the miners assembled on the ball field and listened to speeches by National Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson of Indianapolis and Mr. Detrey. Mr. Wilson said that all the improved conditions in and about the mines since 1900 had been brought about through the miners' organization. He advised the men to remain true to the union.

AGAIN DISCUSSES THE FRIAR LANDS

Governor Taft and Mgr. Guidi Have Resumed Negotiations in Manila.

Manila, Oct. 30.—Gov. Taft and Mgr. Guidi have resumed active negotiation in regard to the transfer of lands owned by the friars to the United States. Mgr. Guidi is anxious to reach an agreement before the governor leaves the islands as the latter is to have the matter settled. It is reported unofficially that the price asked for the church lands has been reduced to $4,000,000.

CHINA IN FEAR OF BIG FAMINE

Philippine Proposal to Buy Buffaloes
Regarded as a Great Danger.

Pekin, Oct. 30.—The Chinese foreign office is alarmed at the proposal of the Philippine government to purchase 30,000 water buffaloes in China to replace those which have died of the plague. It is feared the Chinese farmers will sell all they have if offered a good price, with the result that there will be a famine, owing to lack of animals to cultivate the land. The Chinese officials, however, probably will accede to Mr. Conger's request to remit the export duty.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.)
New York, Oct. 30.—The testimony in the Parks case is now all in and the case has been sent to the jury. A conviction is predicted by those who have followed the proceedings.

JANESVILLE SOIL AREA DISCUSSED

LITTLE BOOK IS PUBLISHED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

MANY INTERESTING FACTS

Janesville is Located in the Center of a Varied Soil Conglomeration.

Soil survey of the Janesville area is the title of an interesting paper written by Jay A. Bonesteel and published by the bureau of soil at Washington. It is an interesting little article and sets forth all the advantages of this section of the country as an agricultural district and a good healthy place to live. The article is written by Jay Bonesteel who spent last summer in Janesville and the vicinity getting data for his government report.

The history of the Janesville district and of the Rock River valley in its earliest time is briefly described. Until 1832 only a few scattered trappers and hunters of the white race had ever visited the Rock River country. In that year the army of General Atkinson sent to defeat and punish Black Hawk, chief of the Sacs and Foxes, marched through this region, encamping at various points in the present area. After the successful termination of this campaign many of the soldiers engaged in it, returning home, told of the fertile prairies and "oak openings," of the abundant water supply, and the beautiful lakes they had seen. This carried the first definite knowledge of the country to the outskirts of civilization, and the pioneers, easily persuaded of a better land just beyond, started forward to the new region. In 1835 John Inman, of Pennsylvania, and William Holmes, of Ohio, made an exploring trip to the junction of the Rock and Yahara rivers. They returned there in the fall of the same year, accompanied by Thomas and Joshua Holmes, Milo Jones and George Follmer, Samuel St. John and his wife, the first white woman to reach the area, came the same year, and were followed in 1836 by Dr. James Heath and wife. Their settlement was made on Rock Prairie, south of the present town of Janesville. This same year, 1835, a government land office was opened at Green Bay and the first sale was made of land west of Rock river. In 1839 a land office was established at Milwaukee and the land east of Rock river was sold.

Then follows the report of the climate as taken from the government reports of the weather bureau station in Beloit. The average temperature is given as 46.9 and the precipitation as 32.68. The average frost date for the spring months is May 9th and in the fall October 3. This gives a growing period of one hundred and fifty days. Janesville area is described as a typical Glaciated area where neither the glacial erosions nor glacial deposits have completely obliterated preglacial erosion feature. It is a region of low rounded hills and ridges interspersed with broad flat prairies. The altitude runs from 740 to 1,100 feet above the sea level.

Glacial Results. When the ice disappeared from the surface of the country the traces of these channels were left in their gravel deposits, called "eskers" by the glacial geologists. Similarly the ice left behind it as it melted the finely ground detritus, derived partly from areas farther to the north and partly from local underlying rock, in the form of a continuous sheet known as the till. In the long years which have succeeded the withdrawal of the ice this till has been prepared by the frost, the rain, and the encroachment of vegetation; that is through the natural processes of weathering, for the purposes of agriculture. This till constitutes the material from which the majority of the soil types of the area have been derived. One other form of glacial deposit is well represented in area. During the withdrawal of the glacial ice there were numerous halts, when the glacier front stood for some time nearly in one position. At such times an excess of debris accumulated along the frontal margin in the form of moraines. Such a deposit occupies the extreme northern portions of Janesville and Center townships and the southwestern corner of Porter township. This belt consists of hummocky knolls of sand and gravel covered with large-sized boulders of granite, diabase, quartz-porphory, diorite, and mica, and hornblende schists, all derived from an area of crystalline rocks in the Lake Superior district. Boulders of similar character occur less numerous throughout the entire area.

The Soils. Ten types of soil are found in the Janesville district. They are Janesville silt loam, Edgerton silt loam, Miami loam, Afton sandy loam, Hanover sand, muck, Mackinac gravel, Janesville loam and Miami black clay loam. Janesville loam is a surface soil of fine brown earth about 12 to 14 inches deep. It occupies both sides of the river through the city bounded by a line drawn by the courthouse on the east side and the post office on the west. Janesville silt loam is due to glacial disturbances.

Miami Loam. Miami loam is the soil that covers the entire western portion of the city between the railway tracks and the river above the line drawn at the post office. It is a compact brown loam containing from fifteen to thirty per cent. of coarse rounded quartz sand. An interesting discussion of muck follows and the various means for the filling in of this soil and making it good for cultivation.

Muck. The surface soil of the muck consists of about 12 inches of organic matter mixed with sand and clay. It is usually underlain by 3 or 4 feet of mottled yellow or blue clay. In other cases the surface soil rests upon a coarse gray quicksand. Nearly all of the muck areas lie along stream courses, and in many cases are surrounded by meadows. The muck areas are uniformly flat and are usually covered by bunches of coarse grass or reeds; scattered clumps of willows also occur. The existence of these muck areas is due entirely to lack of natural drainage. Originally existing as small lakes or ponds, rain wash from the hills has partly filled them up and water loving vegetation has encroached around the margins. This mingling of organic and mineral matter has produced a sticky black soil, usually saturated with water.

These areas are best adapted to the production of onions, celery, cabbages, and cucumbers. In many instances further artificial drainage is necessary before any cultivated crop can be raised. For this purpose a broad, open ditch should be excavated by a dredging scow. Laterals should then be laid with tile drains, and the reclaimed land used at first for the production of grass and corn. In some instances the quicksand underlying the muck would have to be avoided in the construction of the main drainage ditch. Its position could be easily determined through the use of an inch and a half soil auger or a long iron rod. In other localities lands of similar character reclaimed at an expense of less than $20 an acre, are now valued at from $100 to $200 an acre. It is to the interest, not only of the owners of these lands, but also of the general community, to have them drained, since the presence of this saturated mass of soil exerts a harmful influence on surrounding cultivated fields. The taxable basis of the county would also be increased.

Stock Talk on Chicago Markets. Interesting Gossip From the Great Cattle Market of the World. During the past four weeks the receipts of cattle have averaged 82,000 per week and yet the latter part of each week an advance of 15c to 20c was scored. The way that these runs are absorbed shows what a broad demand there is for the beef and if our receipts were at all moderate we could procure fair prices for what comes. It augurs well for the future, when country bankers get through urging holders of cattle to liquidate because money is getting a little tight. Our receipts have run only about 2,500 above last week up to this time but prices have declined sharply on all but the best grades which have not been affected so much. Those selling from $5.50 up were about steady today, with a top at $5.80, but all others were from 10c to 15c lower. With the decline today butcher stuff is at the lowest point of the season. The country seems full of this class of stock and common steers and we are likely to get enough of this kind for three or four weeks yet to hold prices down to a low figure. It puzzles us to find the reason why there is such an enormous demand for feeding lambs and sheep when feeding cattle are 50c to $1.00 below what they were a year ago and prospects much brighter for a profit in cattle. We would prefer feeding cattle to anything else at these prices for we believe there will be a shortage in fat cattle after January and cattle will probably be selling a dollar a hundred higher than now.

Hogs. Our receipts of hogs have only been about 5,000 above last week and yet the packers have pounded the market very hard and prices closed today 30c to 40c below the high point Monday. Packing grades sold mostly from $5.00 to $5.15 today, with many coarse, heavy in car loads below $5. Shippers sold mostly from $5.30 to $5.50 and light at about the same figures. Top $5.60. Our shipping demand has been much better the last month than a year ago and if it were not for that prices would be much lower than they are now are for the packers seem determined to depress prices. We look for hogs to sell still lower but now that they are getting down nearer their true value our declines should be more gradual.

Sheep. Receipts of sheep have been nearly 20,000 below same time last week yet prices are 10c to 15c below the close of last week. Today a few choice kinds sold nearly steady but all others were some lower. Feeding wethers can be bought from $3.00 to $3.40 and feeding lambs from $4.25 to $4.50. Yours truly, DANIELS, WELLS & CARPENTER.

MANY PRESENT AT BEN HUR PARTY

Last Evening - Good Music and Lively Time - First Dance of the Season.

The Order of Ben Hur gave a delightful dancing party at the East Side Odd Fellows hall last evening which was attended by seventy-five couples and was the largest party held so far this season. The dancers trilled the light fantastic to the tune of Prof. Smith's orchestra, which played the latest dance music in a way to receive the compliments of all. This affair is the first of a series of dances to be given during the winter months and the committee in charge did everything in their power to make the occasion a great success. In this they succeeded for all had a delightful time and danced until the early morning hours.

GOOD GAMES ON THE GRIDIRON

LOCAL TEAM PLAYS WHITEWATER TOMORROW.

WISCONSIN MEETS CHICAGO

Prospects Look Good for a Badger Victory - Close Game is Expected.

AWAITING THE WORD.

Tomorrow will be a big football day both in Janesville and Madison. Here the local high school team will meet the Whitewater team and at Madison the possible championship of the west is to be played in the game between Wisconsin and Chicago. Great interest is being shown in both games and the prospects for a victory at home and at Madison is at present most bright.

Local Game. The local game promises to be the closest played this season. Coach Norris has kept his boys hard at it all the week and they know they are to run up against a real live team, coached by a real live coach, when they tackle Whitewater. Last night high school advertisers covered the city with posters even to the top of some of the telephone poles announcing the game. If the friends of the team turn out and cheer for their favorites it will help the players wonderfully. Good cheering and systematic rooting does more than a little to win the game.

Madison Game. Many from Janesville will join one of the excursion trains that will go to Madison and help root the Midway Dancers off their feet. In the past nine years Wisconsin has won five out of nine games played and Chicago four. This year Wisconsin has scored a total of 241 points to Chicago's 375 against opposing teams and each team has been scored on once. Wisconsin will go into the game with a full eleven of season players and with the exception of Bain will have its two regular halfbacks. Chicago is slightly crippled.

Pride Before the Fall. Chicago is sure they can wipe the earth with Wisconsin and Wisconsin feels just the same way about the Chicago team. Pride goes before the fall and one of the teams is bound to be disappointed.

MANY WILL GO TO MADISON

Delegates From Chicago Will Pass Through Here in Box Cars.

Several delegations will go from Janesville to see the Wisconsin team win or lose against Chicago. Several meetings and social functions have been planned and the local men will participate in a number of these. It has been planned to have the train bearing the supporters of the pig skin chasers from Illinois arrive in Janesville shortly after noon. Some of the Chicago fraternities are arranging to make the trip in box cars. The scheme is that each frat occupy a "side door Pullman" and that the appointments and furnishings of these coaches will be luxurious enough for any invading body of that kind. These cars are to be decorated with maroon paint and otherwise transformed to give an imposing appearance. The band will act as escort on this special train to Madison in order that the regular rooters may be afforded sufficient encouragement in their efforts to help their husky comrades win.

RUNS NEEDLE THROUGH HAND

Employee of Lewis Knitting Works Met with an Accident Yesterday.

While at work on one of the knitting machines at the Lewis factory yesterday, Miss Grace Wilbur ran a long needle into her right hand. The wound was a very painful one and Dr. Sutherland was called. It will be several days before Miss Wilbur will have the use of her hand.

"Now, watch me cut a swell," said one rural Kansas girl to another, as she declined to dance with the city dude.

An Indian who asked me for a quarter the other day said he was strapped, but I found on close inspection that he had a red scent.

Geo. Washington was great. In fact, any young man who signs himself Geo. and desires to do something great can succeed. If he will simply eliminate the letter e from his name he will make a Go of it.

A Holton woman has been annoyed recently by her husband's visiting kin, who seem to be in no hurry to leave. Her husband submitted plans the other morning for improvements on their home, and asked if there was anything about the promises she was especially interested in. "Yes," she replied, "I am interested in the flight of stayers."—T. C. McConnell in New York Herald.

IS JANESVILLE SATISFIED?

Among the topics presented at the meeting of the Manufacturers' association last Tuesday evening was "progressive Janesville."

The speaker, Stanley B. Smith, suggested that there were some arguments against the advantages claimed for rapid growth and city developments, and cited statistics to prove that the increase in taxes and expenses were always far in excess of the proportionate growth in population.

The argument, as well as the figures, seemed a little startling at first, and prompted the thought that possibly it was time to call a halt; but there is always two sides to a question and the speaker failed to state the other side.

The census of 1890 showed that Janesville had a population of less than 10,000 and the growth for a decade had been so trifling that it was scarcely perceptible. Real estate and business property of all kinds was at a stand still and in many parts of the city a decided decrease in values was recognized. During the nineties the city took on new life. Geo. L. Carrington and other promoters appeared on the scene, the building association was organized, and the sand hills and gravel knolls of Riverview, Forest Park, and the flats at Spring Brook, were dotted with homes, while acre property, which was a drug on the market at $100 per acre, was platted and sold at prices ranging from $200 to $1,000 per lot.

With new life and new blood the city for the first time in a quarter century, took on healthy growth, until today, with a population conservatively estimated at 15,000 vacant property all over the third ward shows an increase in ten years of more than 400 per cent, while property in all parts of the city is in demand at wholesale prices.

Give Janesville a population of 50,000 and every dollar worth of real estate would quadruple in value. Store and dwelling, rents would be advanced in proportion, and taxation would be lost in general prosperity.

The question of taxation is always perplexing, and not always equitable, but assessments are supposed to be made on values. The man who is property poor is infinitely better off in a progressive growing city, than in a town that is asleep for 25 years as Janesville was from 1865 to 1890.

The Gazette does not believe that the city has reached a point in its experience where the people are satisfied to fold their hands and settle back to the old regime.

It is true, as Mr. Smith stated, that a revolution has been, and is still going on, so far as population is concerned, and that the cities are gaining much more rapidly than the country districts.

There is a reason for this change of population. One man, with improved machinery, will accomplish the same amount of work on the farm today that it required three men to handle 25 years ago, and either the farmer or his boy must move out or move on. We are living in an age of rapid development, where evolution as well as revolution is constantly changing conditions.

The man in business is compelled to keep step with the pace or retreat to the rear, and cities are in the same condition.

What Janesville needs is a 25,000 club composed of men who are fired with the spirit of progress, and a determination to put the population of the city at the 25,000 mark before the census of 1910.

What it needs more in the interests of the immediate future is a spirit of harmony that will unite and put the Myers House property in condition to be opened, not only for the benefit of the traveling public, but in the interests of all the property in the city.

A PRACTICAL EDUCATION

Francis H. Leggett, an eminent and successful New York Merchant, employs about 600 clerks, and among them there is not, to his knowledge, a single college graduate; and yet Mr. Leggett, during all the more than thirty years of his business life, has had an impression that college men ought to be particularly valuable to him and it has been his aim to give them a preference. He has not, however, succeeded in any one instance in making a conspicuous success of his effort in this direction. He says the boy from the New York public schools comes with the knowledge needed to make a good clerk and is able to do valuable work the very day of his engagement, while the university man appears to need a teacher from the start and not to have the willingness, the perseverance nor the quick intelligence of the younger boy from the public school.

This statement from Printers Ink will be recognized as true to conditions by employers in the business world. Mr. Leggett's experience is being repeated all over the country and business men have long since discovered that the practical education in the store or office from boyhood is necessary to the highest success in commercial life.

While this is no argument against a college education for professional life, it tells the story, so far as business life is concerned. There are thousands of young men today who are expert football players, who will never be expert at anything else.

This lack of practical knowledge in affairs of business, is not confined to the college graduate. The course of study adopted by the high schools of the land, contemplates almost invariably higher education, and every effort is exhausted to prepare the scholar for this kind of advancement. In doing this the common branches, so important to business success, are neglected.

As a result the high school graduate, as well as the boy who does not finish his course, is turned loose in the business world to complete his education as best he can.

Janesville is no exception to the rule, as every business man will testify who has had experience with this class of young people. They are deficient in spelling, penmanship and composition, and as a rule are poor mathematicians. Four of the fundamental requirements for a business education, and as a result they are handicapped at the outset.

This is not the fault of the boy or girl, but it is a grave misfortune for which the educational system is responsible, and in justice to the next generation the defect should be remedied.

The most important question that a boy is ever called upon to decide is, his life occupation. If he is to enter commercial or industrial life, his course of educational training should be preparatory for practical work along these lines and he must remember, or some one in authority must remember for him, that the best school for either of these departments is the school of actual experience.

If he graduates from a college and goes into life with the idea that he can do anything he will be doomed to disappointment and failure.

Every avenue is crowded with middle aged and old men, working for a pittance, who started out years ago with an idea that they could do anything because they were equipped with theoretical knowledge.

The business world is never looking for men who can do anything, but it is wonderfully alert for men who can do some one thing well. Mr. Leggett has made no new discovery, he has simply stated a well known fact, based on the experience of a life time in business.

Changed Their Hour: The Woman's History club have changed the hour of meeting to 3 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, on account of the funeral of Mrs. Sayles.

BAR ASSOCIATION HOLDS MEETING

TO RECOMMEND APPOINTMENT OF COURT COMMISSIONER.

TO TAKE HON. PATTEN'S PLACE

Decide Against Selection—Tallman a Candidate—Petition Signed by Many.

A special meeting of the Rock County Bar association was held this morning at the office of Smith and Pierce and it was voted that a court commissioner to take the place of the late Hon. L. F. Patten was not necessary and the minutes further showed that Judge Dunwiddie was to be notified of the action of the association.

Was a Special Meeting
The meeting was called in pursuance to a written request signed by more than five members and they met at 9:30 o'clock this morning. There were twelve present besides the officers. The object of the session was to recommend to the circuit court a candidate for court commissioner in this county, to fill the position recently made vacant.

Small Attendance
Owing to some change of mind, however, no recommendation was made and instead the minutes of the meeting show that the opinion of those present was that another court commissioner was not needed. As there was but a small attendance at the meeting it is hardly thought that the vote expresses the opinion of the entire association.

Tallman a Candidate
A petition has been sent out and signed by a number of well known men, that Stanley Tallman be appointed to the vacancy and the petition will be presented to Judge Dunwiddie. There are many who will be glad to see Mr. Tallman receive the position and his appointment will rest with Judge Dunwiddie.

HORSE FALLS IN HIS TRACKS

Animal Driven by Joe Burns Breaks
Shaft on Milwaukee Street.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Joe H. Burns was driving his horse along West Milwaukee street and started to turn down South River street, when the animal suddenly staggered for a minute and fell to the pavement. A crowd gathered around and assistance was offered to help get the animal on his feet but it was apparent that the animal had the colic or some other troubles internally. Several bystanders offered the opinion that the horse would never get up again, but it did, after a while and the greatest damage appeared to be a broken shaft. Mr. and Mrs. Burns were in the rig at the time of the accident.

Trains Here Watched
Burglars went through the dry goods store of Jonas Brothers at Madison, Wis., Wednesday evening and got away with $1,000 worth of silks, besides a small amount in money and stamps. Chief of Police Hogan was notified of the robbery yesterday and the local railroad yards were closely watched. No suspicious characters were discovered. The robbery was undoubtedly the work of professionals, possibly the same parties that robbed a Rockford store of several hundred dollars worth of silks a few weeks ago.

HIGH WATER THIS SUMMER

The River Is Beginning to Go Down for the First Time Since Spring.

Rock river is today lower than it has been at any time during the last six months and it is continuing to lower after a record summer so far as high water is concerned. Men who have lived in Janesville for years say that they can hardly remember a time when such a volume of water has continued to roll over the upper dam as has come down since last April. The level today between the two dams is nearly three feet below what it was at its record mark a few months ago.

Besides causing the grain elevators, buildings along the bank, and water power in the city much trouble, the farmers owning the lowlands along the river have had considerable trouble from flooded meadows.

MONTHLY SUPPERS HAVE NOW BEGUN

Fifth Methodist Church Has a Unique
Organization—Monthly Meetings.

This week the first of the monthly suppers of the young men's class of the Fifth Methodist church was held in the church parlors. The suppers are ideal in the manner they are served and prepared and furnish an opportunity for the young men to get together once a month and enjoy an evening of general good fellowship. Each member is allowed to bring a guest and the members and their guests come dressed as they are for their work.

The supper is served by the men themselves and is always at sharp half past six. At the last meeting of the class Lake's orchestra was in attendance and Mr. Olson of the orchestra gave two excellent cornet solos. Miss Gertrude Lake acting as accompanist. Then a male quartette composed of J. C. Kline, Dr. F. T. Richard, H. E. Cary and Mr. Brady sang two selections. Mr. Charles Penny was chairman for the evening and the topic selected for discussion was "The Christian Life Is It Possible."

It is helpful in it satisfactory from the standpoint of a man in my calling of life." Mr. W. I. Rothelmer took the traveling man. Fenley Williams, the mechanic, F. E. Beards, the milk man, Rev. Julia of Onondaga, the minister, W. G. Bagley, the barber, and Mr. C. D. Childs contrasted the old and new life. Mr. Brady an employee of the Parker Pen company gave an interesting talk and Prof. Brooks, of the Blind Institute spoke from a professor's standpoint. Rev. Warner closed the evening's discussion by gathering together the points brought by the previous speakers. The next meeting will be held the last Monday in November and Mr. Lewis Rider is leader.

Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Denison have been presented with a painting, the likeness of their daughter. The picture was executed by Miss Owens of New York and was framed by Thurber, whose reputation in that department of art in Chicago, places him with the best. Miss Owens is at present the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. O. St. John, of this city. The best artists who have seen Miss Owens' picture of Miss Denison say that it is very fine. It was given to the pastor and his wife by a number of friends.

WILL CONTINUE TO MAKE EXHIBIT

THE IMPLEMENT MANUFACTURERS WILL STILL SHOW GOODS.

MERELY PRECAUTIONARY MOVE

Mr. Craig, of the Janesville Machine Works, Says It Is Just the Usual Recommendations.

Word comes from Detroit that there is a movement on foot among the agricultural implement men to stop exhibiting at county fairs. It is said that this practice is not of great use to the factories that do it and that it is a needless expense. This matter has come up several times before and it will be remembered that the later state fair at Beloit last fall suffered from this cause and that but few exhibits of farm implements were made owing to a similar agreement between manufacturers.

Not Binding

In speaking of the matter Mr. Craig of the Janesville Machine company says: "This question has been talked of for many years past. I suppose the reason for its sudden prominence just at present is the approaching date of the St. Louis exposition. Many manufacturers have tried to stop exhibits in the past and some companies have done so but it will never be a general thing. The question was brought up at the convention of the National Association of Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers in Cleveland two weeks ago but no definite action was taken. It made the subject of a report of a sub committee but no action was taken upon it."

Still Continues

"The practice of making exhibits will continue. Our association meets to discuss topics of general interest to the dealers and manufacturers. We make no fixed laws regarding the exhibits and the report that has been made public is merely a rebash of the old discussion that has been going on for many years past. The Janesville Machine works will continue to make exhibits as it has in the past."

The Interview

The following appears under a Detroit headline: "There has been an attempt made to have such an agreement signed," said Secretary William W. Collier of the American Harrow company, "but I doubt if it will be perfected. The matter came up in the convention of the agricultural implement makers at Cleveland last week and was placed in the hands of the committee which now has the question under consideration. It was tried some time ago by the harrow men, but some of them departed from it. The plow and reaper men also tried it but failed."

WILL ENTERTAIN, THANKSGIVING EVE

Odd Fellows' Social Club To Give a Party for Members and Their Families.

At a recent meeting of the Odd Fellows Social and Benefit club a committee appointed to make arrangements for an entertainment to be given Thanksgiving eve. The committee met Wednesday evening and decided that the club give a supper, entertainment and dance on that evening and details for the affair were decided upon. The supper will be held at 6:30 and will be followed by a literary and musical program. Those who will take part in this have not all been selected. After the last number the hall will be cleared for dancing. The following men work on the committee: James A. Paterson, chairman, C. H. Schwartz, B. F. Blanchard, W. H. Grove, Willard, Colvin and Walter Kerry. The social will be held at the East Side Odd Fellows hall. Another Odd Fellows dance is talked of, to be held some time in November, but nothing definite has been settled.

Decision Monday: The Myers vs. Johnson & Stevens case has been adjourned until Monday, pending a decision.

MARKET TALK ON CHICAGO CHANGE

GENERAL GOSSIP OF THE WHEAT
PIT FOR TODAY.

FRESH FROM THE CLOSING

Latest Quotations on the Supply Situation and Prices in Chicago.

Wheat opened off 1/4 on easier cables. Good buying around the opening rallied the market 3/4 for December and 1/4 for May. On the advance heavy selling by local professionals broke both months 3/4. At the decline the market was well supported by Armour and the southwest. The closing was strong at about last night's close. Wheat looks to us in a very strong position at present and we recommend buying on all recessions. Foreigners are taking our wheat at these prices. Bradstreet's report gives exports 4,094,000 for the week and 30 loads today.

Corn
Corn opened 1/4 off in sympathy with wheat. The market was well supported on the recession and held firm throughout the session, closing very strong. We look for corn to do better and recommend buying on all dips.

Oats
Oats opened at about last night's close. The market sold off in sympathy with wheat and corn. Trade very light. No special feature to the market. We believe oats sold on all rallies will net good profits in the near future.

Provisions
The market was slow and somewhat irregular. There was some demand for May pork. The packers were best sellers. Trade not large. The market closed firm.

Coming Attractions.

Cabin." Oct. 31—Andrew Robson in "Richard Carvel."

RICHARD CARVEL

Andrew Robson, the young romantic actor, will present for the first time in this city that fascinating and inspiring romance, "Richard Carvel," at Myers Grand, Saturday evening. This play has attracted more attention and drawn larger audiences than any other which has held the boards during the last decade, and it is in compliance with repeated requests plot and counterplot which would have done credit to the pen of Dumas when he depicts the stirring events transpiring in the reign of a Medici or Valois.

In the title role of this romantic play Mr. Robson is said to have found a part for which nature seems to have especially fitted him, and in which he has added largely to the already high reputation he had won by his masterly interpretation of the stellar role in "The Royal Box," a part in which, as Charles Coghlan's successor, he successfully toured the country for two seasons. All the scenery for the four acts into from managers who played the attraction last season that it has been decided to present it on tour for the coming year. The secret of its success lies in the fact that, while it is American and patriotic, the action is full of romance and picturesqueness. We find a typical 18th century American gentleman imbued with all the spirit and dash of the period, fighting for his country and his sweetheart. We are held spell-bound by the thrill of intrigue and which "Richard Carvel" is divided is carried by the organization, and in picturing the lawn in front of and the interior of the Carvel mansion in Maryland, and the tap room of the "Star and Garter" Inn and the ball room at Charleston House, London, the artists have accomplished results that are said to surround the action of the play with settings that are in thorough keeping with the requirements of the period. The costumes are rich, varied and picturesque.

Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, October 30, 1863.—Mr. Conway, of the Boston Commonwealth, now in England, thus describes the personal appearance of the great unorthodox bishop: "Walking along a thoroughfare the other day I encountered a man who, I suppose would arrest attention among any thousands. Almost seven feet high, slender but well formed, with clear cut features and eyes full of light—there walked the present Banquo of the English church, Bishop Colenso."

Maximilian's Golden Sceptre.—The golden sceptre to be presented by the Mexican deputation to the Archduke Maximilian was seen by a few of the notables here. It is a thick gold stick about the size, in circumference, of a very fat "elder man's thumb, and of about eighteen inches in length. The gold is from the mines of Mexico, and the four large emeralds which adorn the handle are likewise of Mexican produce. The ruby fixed at the end, and which is said to send back the seven rays of the star in sunlight, was taken from the watch chain of Iturbide, where that unfortunate monarch wore it for some time. It is a pity that the same notables who come provided with the sceptre for governing the people of Mexico do not come with instructions how to use it. The first false moment in the exercise of this new and strange weapon—the first thrust will render the bearer liable to the same fate as that of his predecessor—while it is strangely long enough, thick enough, or strong enough to execute a parry without a risk of being shivered to atoms.—Paris Correspondence Liverpool Journal.

Clueless, Oct. 29.—Lieut. Col. J. B. Brownlow, of the 9th Tennessee cavalry, arrived in the city day before yesterday, to obtain clothing and equipments for his regiment. He informs us that there is no doubt but that East Tennessee will adopt immediate measures for emancipating its slaves. Over eight thousand recruits have been obtained since Gen. Burnside entered Knoxville: two regiments of these are from the parts of North Carolina and Georgia bordering on East Tennessee. Parson Brownlow issued the first number of his new paper on the 26th inst., which date is exactly two years from the day upon which the Knoxville Whig was suppressed.

New York, Oct. 30.—The steamer Eagle from Havana of the 24th has arrived. A Havana letter to the Herald states that the insurgents in St. Domingo had completely destroyed the town of Puerto Plata, and gained a great advantage.

Town Talks.

Two young men well known in this city had a queer experience recently. They were hunting and bagged considerable quarry—according to their reports. Anyway they came back and had glowing tales to tell of all the game—squirrels and rabbits—that dropped in their tracks after every rifle crack at the hands of the nifty sportsmen. They told of killing several rabbits and several squirrels and held up a small bag in support of their claims. "Are they all in that bag?" inquired some one in a surprised tone. "Well," said one of the nimrods, "you see it was this way, after we shot the first bunch of rabbits we lugged them back to our rig and returned to the woods for another load. When we had secured some more specimens we carried them to the rig, but to our surprise and dismay, the pile of rabbits we had left in the wagon box had disappeared and we could not find them anywhere. So we only had a few squirrels to bring home."

Mrs. John Henning, St. Paul, was all run down—weak and nervous. Rocky Mountain Tea made a new woman of her. Gained nearly fifty pounds. 35 cents. Smith's Pharmacy.

LABOR TALK FOR WORKMEN

Gossip From All Over.

Tremendous strides in growth and importance have been made by the Massachusetts branch A. F. L., this year, (sixty-seve) additional unions affiliating with the organization during the past twelve months. The number includes every large union of the state, and while but 300 odd of the nearly 1,000 organizations of the state are as yet directly affiliated, nevertheless the unions attached probably directly represent 90 per cent of the organized workers of Massachusetts.

The strike of the type foundries all over the country for a renewal of their agreement promises to be a long drawn out battle. While only about 600 men are involved and 95 per cent of these are members of the union, the union itself is a component part of the International Typographical union, which organization, at its annual convention in Washington, D. C., endorsed the proposed strike.

Kansas City, Mo., brass workers have secured a nine hour day without strike.

Wages paid in the Philippines to adult male labor range from 20 cents to $1.00 a day.

After three months of idleness operations were resumed at the Stafford Cotton mills, Fall River, Mass., this week. The company operates three mills and employs nearly 1,000 hands.

President Mitchell, Vice President Lewis and Secretary Wilson met at the office of the United Mine Workers of America in Indianapolis this week to consider the question of inaugurating a strike of the coal miners in the states of Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico. After canvassing the situation it was decided to delay an announcement of the date upon which official order for a suspension would be issued. This course was adopted in order to give time in which to make further efforts to negotiate with the coal companies for a conference and an adjustment of the grievances complained of by the miners in these states.

Complete disruption of the American Labor union and the Western association of Miners is one of the tasks to be undertaken by the National Employees' association, launched in Chicago by D. M. Parry Frederick W. Dob, E. F. Du Brul and other prominent leaders in the movement to organize manufacturers which is spreading over the country. The American Federation of Labor is to be invited by the employers to step into the Western field and organize the movement. Socialism according to the claims of the Western employers, completely controls the Western labor movement.

CALUMET Baking Powder

Food prepared with Calumet Baking Powder is pure and healthful, and is free from Rochelle salts, alum, lime and ammonia. A wonderful powder of unequalled strength.

Trust Baking Powders sell for 45 or 50 cents per pound and may be identified by this exorbitant price. They are a menace to public health, as food prepared from them contains large quantities of Rochelle salts, a dangerous cathartic drug.

GUARANTEE BOND WITH EVERY PACKAGE

The People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy New Way of Selling M-I-O-N-A, the Flesh-Forming Food. There are not very many things in the People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy's large stocks of medicines, that they are willing to have you take out of their store and say if it does not give you satisfaction you need not pay for it. In reality it is this way that they are selling M-I-O-N-A, the flesh-forming food and digestion regulator, as you will see by reading the following bond:

GUARANTEE BOND.

We hereby agree to refund the price paid for M-I-O-N-A if the purchaser tells us that it has not increased flesh and gives freedom from stomach troubles. King's Pharmacy & People's Drug Co.

The signed bond gives you their receipt for the money and is their agreement to refund it if you find that M-I-O-N-A does not give an increase in weight and absolute freedom from stomach troubles.

Look into the faces of the men and women of Janesville and see how large a proportion have grown thin and haggard before their time. What these people need is M-I-O-N-A, the flesh-forming food a restorer of health and strength to the digestive organs.

The guarantee bond that the People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy give you with M-I-O-N-A, speaks volumes for the merit of M-I-O-N-A. No one can afford to suffer longer, or be thin and weak, now that there is a chance like this to get a remedy that costs nothing unless it restores health and strength.
